

Frozen

I would like to share a good story book with all of you. It's called "Frozen 5-Minute Stories". There are many stories in it, such as "Frozen," "Family Matters," "Olaf Waits for Spring," and others. Among all of them, my favourite story is "Frozen". It is about a beautiful family's love.

The story is about two sisters, Anna and Elsa. They live happily in the castle with their parents. Elsa has magic powers to create ice and snow. One time, when Elsa and Anna were playing happily together, Elsa accidentally lost control of her magic powers and hurt Anna. After that, Elsa started to fear her powers and kept herself away from Anna to keep Anna safe.

Later, Anna and Elsa's parents were lost at sea. Elsa became the queen, but she locked herself in her room. She lost control of her powers again when Anna wanted to marry a man who she had only met for one day. Everyone in the kingdom knew that Elsa was frightened and ran away.

Anna ran after Elsa and found her in an ice castle. However, she does not want to go back home with Anna. She lost control of her powers once more and hurt Anna. Anna was frozen, and only true love could heal her. Elsa was very upset and realised that love was the key to her magic. Elsa could control her magical powers finally and save Anna.

I think that the story is touching. Family always will give you all of their love without any reason. Anna is willing to help Elsa face her fear even though she could be in danger. Just like my dad and mum help and support me without anything in return. I love my family too.
