Birthday Party

Last Sunday was my Mum's birthday. My sister and I wanted to have a surprise party for our mum at home. We planned to tidy the living room, write a beautiful birthday card, and buy snacks and cake for the party. We felt happy.

I went to ABC Supermarket in Tai Po to buy snacks, drinks and birthday cake. My sister called me and asked, 'Have you got the snacks and drinks?' I said, 'Yes, I have already bought that.' Then I asked her, 'Have you tidied the living room and made a birthday card for mum?' She said, 'Yes. I have already finished doing everything.'

In the evening, we were having a party in the living room. We felt excited. Dad said, 'Let's cut the cake!' 'Oh no!' I said. 'I forgot to buy it.' I felt very disappointed.

I decided to run and buy a cake from the bakery near my house. Mum felt wonderful to see my efforts. She appreciated our hard work. Then we played card games, sang some songs and watched my mum's favorite movie. It was the best birthday party ever!
